Administrative/Biographical History:

Victor M. Burlingame (1899-1955) was born in Colorado and served in the U.S. Navy during World War I. He came to work at White Mountain at 26-years-old after being discharged to work . He married Frances Elizabeth (1910-1954) in 1937. His son, Dr. William Victor Burlingame (1938-2020), the donor, was born in Santa Monica, California and the family moved to Guemes Island in Skagit County, Washington shortly after World War II. Burlingame and his wife are buried in Yakima, Washington.

White Mountain was established on the site of the Inupiat fish camp called Nutchirviq. The town grew after an influx of prospectors during the gold rush of 1900. A government-subsidized orphanage was built at White Mountain and was converted to an industrial school in 1926. A post office was opened in 1932. The city government was incorporated in 1969.¹
